Description

We should check that our website is GDPR compliant -- I have some doubts about the "visitor counter".
Strictly we should send a brief message to the mailing list about GDPR (what exactly should it say?)

The mailing list is now under google, so I believe we have nothing to do about that.
I need to understand better about what the visitor counter (both the "map" and our homemade counter for the languages) does in terms of GDPR.

This is tough for a mathematician!

We should seek advice about this.
